WHY HELP BLUEBIRDS?

Presented by:

Beth Elkins, Organizing Member of the
Virginia Bluebird Society-1996 &
Rhonda Matterson, Talbot County Coordinator of the Maryland Bluebird Society

Tuesday, March 22

2pm Clubhouse

The Eastern Bluebird is a native, cavity-nesting bird that suffered plummeting numbers in the last century due to habitat loss, use of pesticides, such as DDT and the introduction of two competing species, the European Starling and the House Sparrow. From a low point in 1963, the active assistance of Bluebird monitors nationwide has helped reverse this decline in the numbers of bluebirds by providing safe nest boxes. The MBS strives to continue and expand this important work in our state.
